central asia is a region singularly marked by attempts to transform social life by transforming place drawing together established scholars and a new generation of historians geographers and anthropologists this volume brings empirical specificity and theoretical depth to debates about the politics of place making in this diverse region making an important contribution to central asian studies and a distinctive regional comparison to the spatial turn in social analysis case studies draw on archival research and oral history to explore the workings and unintended consequences of policies aimed at sedentarizing collectivizing and resettling populations as a means to fix and territorialize space the book also examines ethnographic studies attuned to the role of movement in sustaining social life from soviet era trade networks that linked rural central asia and the russian metropolis to pilgrimage routes through which kazakhness is articulated to the contemporary moralization of migration abroad in search of work rather than analysing flows as abstract processes the book enquires about effortful activity material infrastructures political relations and social habits through which people ideas knowledge skills and material objects move or are prevented from moving as such it offers new insights into the complex intersections of movement power and place in this important region over the last two centuries this book was originally published as a special issue of central asian survey an innovative introduction to human geography exploring different ways of studying the relationships between people and place and putting people at the centre of human geography the book covers behavioural humanistic and cultural traditions showing how these can lead to a nuanced understanding of how we relate to our surroundings on a day to day basis the authors also explore how human geography is currently influenced by postmodern ideas stressing difference and diversity while taking the importance of these different approaches seriously as ways of thinking about the role of place in peoples everyday lives the book also tries to encapsulate what has been so vibrant and exciting about human geography over the last couple of decades by using examples to which students can relate such as how they imagine and represent their home the way they avoid certain spaces how they move through retail spaces where they choose to go to university how they use the internet how they represent other nations and so on the authors show how geography shapes everyday life in a manner that is seemingly mundane yet profoundly important as place branding has become a widely established but contested practice there is a dire need to rethink its theoretical foundations and its contribution to development and to re assert its future this important new book advances understanding of place branding through its holistic critical and evidence based approach contributions by world leading specialists explore a series of crucially significant issues and demonstrate how place branding will contribute more to cultural economic and social development in the future the theoretical analysis and illustrative practical examples in combination with the accessible style make the book an indispensable reading for anyone involved in the field the council of nicaea in 325 ad marked the beginning of a new era in christianity for the first time doctrines were organized into a single creed the nicene and post nicene fathers did most of their writing during and after this important event in church history unlike the previous era of christian writing the nicene and post nicene era is dominated by a few very important and prolific writers in volume i of the 14 volume collected writings of the nicenes and post nicenes first published between 1886 and 1889 readers will discover some of the writings of saint augustine recognized as a great religious figure by many christian sects he is the patron of the augustinian monks who live their lives according to the values found in augustines writings in the confessions augustine speaks honestly about his sins as a youth and the saving grace he discovered when he found god in the letters the true personality of augustine shines through he is one of the major theological resources of his time and so through his correspondences audiences can see what issues plagued the newly unified christian religion and come to know the man who helped shape western religion as we know it
